Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-17 and 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As amended, in claim 1, it is unclear as to the signal processor and a processor. It seems that a processor is a processor, either it could a CPU or any known processing system. There is no explanation in the specification regarding the signal processor and the processor.

Response to Amendment

3. The amendment filed 9/3/03 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: "A process control system for controlling the velocity including a processor that provides a control signal, in response to the velocity signal, to a flow device that controls the velocity of the fluid to a desired rate" in amended claims.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Art Unit: 2855

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1-17 and 19-21 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-28 and claims 1-114 of copending Application No. 09/345,827 and 10/115,727. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed subject as originally claimed, minus the new matter issue as amended, assuming to be canceled as not described in the specification and being new matter, is nothing more than an apparatus for measuring velocity of fluid in a pipe comprising a first and second filter to measure vortical pressure field and a signal processor to provide a velocity signal.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-4, 12 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lew (5,152,181).

Art Unit: 2855

Lew teaches a velocity meter for measuring a velocity of the moving fluid in a pipe comprising a first filter (5-7, 12) and a second filter (8-10, 13) and a transducer comprised of a piezoresistive type differential pressure sensing transducer (not shown) and a signal processor responsive to the signals generated by the first and second circuits to determine the fluid flow. Lew does not specifically describe the fiber optic type strain gage transducer. However, Lew teaches that the piezoresistive transducer may be replaced by any well-known device such as capacitive, inductive, resistive or fiber optic. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the suggested fiber optic transducer for the piezoresistive transducer since such transducers are well known to the skilled in the pressure measurement art.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
